Microzine Jr.'s

The GREAT FRANKFURTER

How does he do it?

The hand is quicker than the eye!

You won't believe your eyes!

You will gasp and wonder!

SCHOLASTIC

THE GREAT FRANKFURTER

Microzine Jr.

Sometimes, putting things in the right order isn't as easy as it sounds! Use the spaces below to write a set of directions for brushing your teeth. Read through your directions to make sure you haven't left any steps out.

The first thing I do is: _____

Then I: _____

_____

_____

_

You Make the MAGIC

It is your turn to be the magician! Think of a magic trick you would like to perform. What is the name of the trick? What props do you need? What does your special costume look like?

The name of my trick is: _____

The props I need are: _____

My special costume will be: _____

_____

_____

_____

_____

Now draw a picture of yourself performing the trick. Be sure to draw a word bubble that shows you saying your magic word.

THE GREAT FRANKFURTER Microzine Jr.

THIS WORKSHEET MAY REPRODUCED FOR USE IN THE CLASSROOM. COPYRIGHT © 1989 BY SCHOLASTIC INC.
ISBN: 0-590-86722-9

THE GREAT FRANKFURTER Microzine Jr.

PUT THINGS IN ORDER

Below is a very mixed up short story. Read the story and try to discover the correct order of the story.

Use the space below to rewrite the story in the correct order.

First, he placed a straw on an empty table. After he drew one circle, Frank drew seven imaginary circles around the straw. For his second step, Frank drew one, slow imaginary circle around the straw, without touching it. When he finished the trick, the audience clapped and shouted for more. Slowly Frank pulled his finger away from the straw. The straw rolled after Frank's finger! After his fifth step, Frank secretly blew on the straw. For his fourth step, Frank stopped drawing circles and held his finger still, next to the straw. The audience thought Frank was pulling the straw without even touching it!

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

THIS WORKSHEET MAY REPRODUCED FOR USE IN THE CLASSROOM. COPYRIGHT © 1989 BY SCHOLASTIC INC.